Johan Toll

Executive Director of Transformation

IPsoft

Johan, Executive Director of Transformation at IPsoft, is making it his life ambition to evangelize and create self-learning and self-healing expert systems that liberate talent and imagination for a more efficient management of businesses in the 21st century, infused by Digital Labor.

Prior to joining IPsoft, Johan was a customer of IPsoft, pioneering the robotic transformation within Europe's Management Service Providers. With a career spanning over 30 years, Johan's previous work experiences include both CIO, CTO and Management Consultant roles for leading international organizations with the establishment of support organizations in high-tech companies as specialty.

When he's not finding ways for cognitive technologies to enrich human experiences, Johan is trying to keep pace with his two kids.
