Clare Gregory

Partner
DLA Piper

Clare Gregory has considerable experience in all aspects of employment law, both contentious and non-contentious having practiced in this area for over 15 years. Her main practice focus is on the employment implications of business transfers and outsourcing.

Clare has a particular interest in collective consultation and outsourcing issues and has been involved in advising on a Court of Appeal case involving the application of TUPE, as well as cases of significant value in both areas. She regularly advises clients in relation to general counsel issues including in relation to worker status.

Clare is also experienced in managing cross border projects involving a variety of employment issues across several jurisdictions, and reporting to clients on multi-jurisdiction issues.
